This includes all forms and means including but not limited to photo-copying, scanning, computer disk, recording, computer modem, email or by any informational storage and or retrieval system including a web page, web site, or electronic mail, without express written permission from copyright holder.

Only 609Disputes.com - LLC and/or their authorized distributors, who have written authorization signed and documented by the copyright holder, have the right to reproduce this work in either printed or electronic form in full or in part. The author, copyright holder and/or any authorized distributor assumes no responsibility for errors, inaccuracies, or omissions. This work (in any electronic or digital form or in any other printed material form) is not intended for use as a source of legal, accounting, tax, or financial advice. If advice concerning legal, accounting, tax, financial, or any other professional advice is needed, the services of a qualified, properly licensed and competent professional should be sought. The contents of this work reflect the views and opinions of the author. Every business venture or investment presents risk and this work cannot and does not eliminate all of those risks. The author and publisher have made their best effort to produce a high quality, informative and helpful course on how to force the Credit Bureaus to remove negative credit items that they cannot verify based on the FCRA. But they make no representation or warranties of any kind with regard to the completeness and accuracy of the contents of the course. Any slights or people and/or organizations are unintentional. Neither the author nor the publisher accept any liability of any kind for any losses or damages caused or alleged to be caused, directly or indirectly, from using the information contained in this course. Every individual must make his or her own decisions. Although this course describes the experiences of the author, it in no way guarantees similar success for others. Every effort has been made to ensure that this publication is free from errors and/or problems.
